Brief History of the University

The Eastern Visayas State University had its humble beginnings in 1907, as a part of the Provincial school. It became a separate educational entity in 1915 and was renamed as the Leyte Trade School funded by the Provincial government. In 1953, after thirty-eight years, it was renamed as the National Provincial Trade School by virtue of R.A. 406 funded jointly by the National and Provincial Government to cover a wider curricular area. In 1961, the Congress of the Philippines passed Republic Act 1516 converting it into the Leyte Regional Arts and Trades and authorizing it to become a training institution, for vocational and industrial education in Eastern Visayas. Finally, Republic Act 4572 enacted by the congress of the Philippines which took effect in the school year 1965-1966 further converting the school into a chartered college. It was renamed the Leyte Institute of Technology, an institute of higher learning committed to the service of a larger academic area of responsibility.

For SY 1999-2000, LIT has its satellite campus, the Ormoc satellite Campus. In 1999, pursuant to the provisions of RA 7722, 8292 and 8745 and Board Resolutions No. 59, Series of 1999, two CHED Supervised institutions (CSIs) in Leyte, namely the Leyte College of Arts and Trades and the Burauen Polytechnic College were integrated to LIT. The LIT Dulag Campus started in SY 2000-2001. The Carigara School of Fisheries was integrated to LIT, the second phase of CSIs institution to SUCs.

In 2002-2003, LIT had continued accomplishing its significant role and responsibility to the people in the region. The introduction of new programs, technological and business, the realignment of courses, and high-passing percentage of the engineering and other professional programs established a great challenge and gigantic responsibility to the institution.

Finally, in 2004, Republic Act 9311 converted the Leyte Institute of Technology, into Eastern Visayas State University, a challenge to serve Eastern Visayas, through academic excellence and technological development.

Certainly, the wide sphere of autonomy given to universities in the exercise of academic freedom extends to the right to confer academic honors. Thus, exercise of academic freedom grants the University the exclusive discretion to determine to whom among its graduates it shall confer academic recognition, based on its established standards.¹⁶

The issuance of appointment form temporary to permanent, career to non-career or vice versa, non-career to another non-career, all of which entails no gap in the service, shall be considered as reappointment. Non-career employees who are appointed for the first time in the career service under permanent status shall be required to undergo probationary period of six (6) months.

18.5.2. The renewal of temporary, contractual and casual appointment upon the expiration of the appointment or subsequent appointment of substitute faculty members or teachers, which entails no gap in the services, shall be considered as reappointment. A temporary appointment may be renewed if there is no qualified actually available who is willing to accept the appointment, as certified by the Vice President for Administration and Finance upon the recommendation by the Vice President for Academic Affairs and provided that the performance rating of the faculty member or academic staff or employee is at least Satisfactory.

18.5.3. Personal or coterminous staff of the University President and/or officials of the University whose term of office ended and are subsequently absorbed or rehired by the succeeding University President and/or officials of the University without gap in their service shall be issued new appointments, the nature of which is reappointment.

18.5.4. Reappointment presupposes no gap in the service.

- 18.6. Reinstatement (to comparable position) – the restoration of a faculty member or academic staff or employee, as a result of a decision, to a career position from which he/she has, through no delinquency or misconduct, been separated but subject position is already abolished, requiring the issuance of an appointment to a comparable position to the separated faculty member or academic staff or employee.

However, reinstatement (to the same position/item), which involves the restoration of the faculty member or academic staff or employee, as a result of decision, to a career position from which he/she has, through no delinquency or misconduct, been separated from the service and subject position is still available, does not need the issuance of an appointment.

- 18.7. Demotion – the movement of a faculty member or academic staff or employee from a higher academic rank or position to a lower academic rank or position where he/she qualified, if a lower academic rank or position is available. The demotion entails reduction in duties, responsibilities, status or rank, which may or may not involve a reduction in salary.

In cases where the demotion is due to reorganization or rationalization, the faculty member or academic staff or employee shall be allowed to continue to receive the salary of the higher academic rank or position.

In cases where the demotion is voluntary or at the instance of the faculty member or academic staff or employee, he/she shall be allowed to receive the same step of salary grade of the academic rank or position where he/she voluntarily sought to be appointed. A written consent shall be secured from the demoted faculty member or academic staff or employee.

- 18.8. Reclassification – a form of staffing modification and/or academic rank or position classification action which is applied only when there is a substantial change in the regular duties and responsibilities of the academic rank or position. This may result in a change in any or all of the position attributes: position title, level and/or salary grade. It generally involves a change in the academic rank or position title and may be accompanied by an upward or downward change in salary. Reclassification is the generic term for changes in academic/staff/position classification which includes upgrading, downgrading, and recategorization.

Reclassification of academic rank or position requires the issuance of an appointment but the same is ministerial on the part of the University President and/or EVSU Board of Regents.

The appointment of an incumbent (permanent faculty member or academic staff or employee) whose academic rank or position was reclassified shall be approved/validated, regardless of whether he/she meets the qualification requirements of the academic rank or position involved. The incumbent of the reclassified academic rank or position has a vested right to the reclassified academic rank or position but he/she shall not be promoted unless he/she meets the qualification requirements of the next higher academic rank or position.

Article 9

Other Human Resource Actions⁵⁷

Section 19. Classifications of Other Human Resource Actions. – The following human resource actions which will not require the issuance of an appointment shall nevertheless require an Office or Special Order issued by the University President upon prior authority and/or subject to ratification or confirmation by the EVSU Board of Regents:

19.1. Reassignment – the movement of a faculty member or academic staff or employee across the organizational structure within the University which does not involve a reduction in rank, status or salary. Reassignment shall be governed by the following:

19.1.1. Reassignment of faculty members or academic staff or employees with station-specific place of work indicated in their respective appointments within the geographical location of the University shall be allowed only for a maximum period of one (1) year. The restoration or return to the original post/assignment shall be automatic without the need of any order of restoration/revocation of the order of reassignment.

An appointment is considered station-specific when: (a) the particular office or station where the position is located is specifically indicated on the face of the appointment paper; or (b) the position title already specified the station, such as, University President, Vice Presidents, Deans, Campus Directors, Directors or Heads, Human Resource Management Officer, Accountant, Budget Officer, different academic ranks and academic staff position titles, and such other positions with organizational unit/station-specific function. Such position titles are considered stations-specific even if the place of assignment is not indicated on the face of appointment.

- 19.1.2. If an appointment is not station-specific, the one-year maximum period of reassignment within the geographical location of the University shall not apply. However, the employee concerned may request for a recall of the reassignment citing his/her reasons why he/she wants to go back to his/her original station. The reassignment may also be revoked or recalled by the University and/or EVSU Board of Regents or be declared not valid by the CSS or a competent court, on appeal.
- 19.1.3. Reassignment is presumed to be regular and made in the interest or exigency of public service⁵⁸ unless proven otherwise or if it constitutes constructive dismissal. Constructive dismissal exists when an official, faculty member, academic staff or employee quits his/her work because of the University's unreasonable, humiliating, or demeaning actuations, which render continued work impossible because of geographic location, financial dislocation and performance of other duties and responsibilities inconsistent with those attached to the position. This may occur although there is no diminution or reduction in rank, status or salary of the faculty member or academic staff or employee.

Reassignment that constitutes constructive dismissal may be any of the following:

1. Reassignment of a faculty member or academic staff or employee to perform duties and responsibilities inconsistent with the duties and responsibilities of his/her academic rank or position such as from a position of dignity to a more servile or menial job;
2. Reassignment to an office not in the existing organizational structure;
3. Reassignment to an existing office but the faculty member or academic staff or employee is not given any definite set of duties and responsibilities;
4. Reassignment that will cause significant financial dislocation or will cause difficulty or hardship on the part of the faculty member or academic staff or employee because of geographical location; or

⁵⁸ Situations wherein there will be disruption in the delivery of basic or vital services or emergency/crisis situation or there is a need to respond to the demands of public service.

5. Reassignment that is done indiscriminately or whimsically because the law is not intended as a convenient shield for the University President or disciplining officer to harass or oppress a subordinate on the pretext of advancing and promoting public interest such as reassignment of faculty members or academic staff or employees twice within a year, or reassignment of career officials and employees with valid appointments during change of administration of elective and appointive officials.

Reassignment that results in constructive dismissal must be sufficiently established.

- 19.1.4. The faculty member or academic staff or employee may appeal the reassignment order within fifteen (15) days upon receipt thereof to the EVSU Board of Regents or to the CSC or CSC Regional Office No. VIII, as provided under specific law, if he/she believes there is no justification for the reassignment. Pending appeal, the reassignment shall not be executory⁵⁹. The Decision of the CSC Regional Office No. VIII may be further appealed to the CSC within fifteen (15) days from receipt thereof.

- 19.1.5. Reassignment of public health workers, public social workers, public school teachers and other professions covered by special laws shall be governed by their respective laws. However, the rules herein mentioned shall be applied suppletorily.

- 19.2. Detail – temporary movement of a faculty member or academic staff or employee from one Academic Department or College or Campus to another within the University or from one agency to University or from the University to another agency, which does not involve a reduction in rank, status or salary. Detail shall be governed by the following rules:

- 19.2.1. The detailed faculty member or academic staff or employee shall receive his/her salary only from his/her parent University Campus or agency.

- 19.2.2. Detail without consent shall be allowed only for a period of one (1) year.

- 19.2.3. Detail with consent shall be allowed for a maximum of three (3) years. The extension or renewal of the detail shall be discretionary on the part of the University or parent agency.

- 19.2.4. Detail from one University or agency to another shall be covered be covered by an agreement manifesting the arrangement between the agency heads that it shall not result in reduction in rank, status or salary of the faculty member or academic staff or employee, the duration of the detail, duties to be assigned to the faculty member or academic staff or employee and respondents of the University and receiving agency.

19.2.5. The faculty member or academic staff or employee may appeal the detail order within fifteen (15) days upon receipt to the EVSU Board of Regents or CSC or CSC Regional Office No. VIII if he/she believes there is no justification for the detail. Pending appeal, the detail order shall be executory unless otherwise ordered by the CSC. The decision of the said CSC Regional Office No. VIII may be further appealed to the CSC within fifteen (15) days from receipt.

19.2.6. During the period of the detail, the University relinquishes administrative supervision and control over the detailed faculty member or academic staff or employee to the receiving agency. In this regard, the receiving agency has the following responsibilities:

1. To monitor the punctuality and attendance of the faculty member or academic staff or employee;
2. To approve requests for leave;
3. To evaluate the faculty member or academic staff or employee's performance;
4. To grant the authority to travel; and
5. Exercise other acts necessary to effectively supervise the faculty member or academic staff or employee.

Provided, that a report on said matters is submitted to the University for record purposes.

19.2.7. The detailed faculty member or academic staff or employee shall be designated by the receiving agency to a position whose duties are comparable to his/her position in the University. However, he/she shall not be designated to a position exercising control or supervision over regular and career employees of the receiving agency.

19.2.8. Prior to the effectivity of the detail, the University shall furnish a certification of the available sick and vacation leave credits of the detailed faculty member or academic staff or employee to the receiving agency. In the event the receiving agency approves requests for leave by the detailed faculty member or academic staff or employee, a copy of the same shall be submitted to the University.

19.2.9. The authority to discipline the detailed faculty member or academic staff or employee is still vested in the University President and/or Board of Regents of the University. As used herein, the authority to discipline includes the determination of the existence of a prima facie case against the detailed faculty member or academic staff or employee, issuance of a formal charge, issuance of the order of preventive suspension if the case so warrants, conduct of formal investigation, and rendering of the decision on the administrative case.

With respect to the administrative case arising from acts done by the faculty member or academic staff or employee in the receiving agency, said agency shall have the right to initiate or file complaint against the detailed employee subject to the provisions of the Code of Conduct and Rules on Administrative and Disciplinary Cases of the Officials and Employees of the University duly approved by the EVSU Board of Regents and/or the 2017 Rules on Administrative Cases in the Civil Service (RACCS).

19.2.10. All human resource actions and movements, including monetization of leave credits, concerning the detailed faculty member or academic staff or employee, shall still be under the jurisdiction of the University notwithstanding that the faculty member or academic staff or employee is detailed in another agency.

19.3. Designation – movement that involves an imposition of additional and/or higher duties to be performed by an official, faculty member or academic staff or employee which is temporary and can be terminated anytime at the pleasure of the University President and/or EVSU Board of Regents. Designation may involve the performance of the duties of another position⁶⁰ on a concurrent capacity or on full-time basis.

A designation in an acting capacity entails not only the exercise of the ministerial functions attached to the position but also the exercise of discretion since the person designated is deemed to be the incumbent of the position⁶¹.

Officials designated as Officer-in-Charge (OIC) enjoy limited powers which are confined to functions of administration and ensuring that the office continues its usual activities. The OIC may not be deemed to possess the power to appoint employees as the same involves the exercise of discretion which is beyond the power of an OIC, unless the designation order issued by the University President and/or EVSU Board

Employees holding first level positions can not be designated to perform the duties of second level positions except in meritorious cases as determined by the CSC Regional Office No. VIII upon request for exemption by the University, such as organizational set-up, calamity, and due to exigency of the service. This exception shall not apply to positions involving supervisory and executive managerial functions. Division Chiefs may be designated to perform the duties of second level executive/managerial or third level positions.
3. For positions with incumbents who temporarily can not perform the duties of the position (due to vacation or sick leave, study leave, scholarship, maternity leave, special assignments), the designation should be synchronized with the absence of the incumbent, unless earlier revoked or recalled by the University President and/or EVSU Board of Regents. However, the designation of the faculty members or academic staff or employees may be renewed every year in the exigency of the service but not to exceed two (2) years.

However, allowances that go with the performance of the functions such as RATA (Representation and Transportation Allowance) or EME (Extraordinary and Miscellaneous Expenses) may be granted as provided under the provisions of the General Appropriations Act (GAA) and/or budget duly approved by the EVSU Board of Regents. Provided, that the grant of the same is specifically stated in the designation order.

¹⁶² In Virginia M. Andrade v. Court of Appeals and Dominador S. Wingsing, G.R. No. 127932, December 7, 2001, the Supreme Court upheld the transfer of the name of the petitioner to the last page of the roll, to wit:

“With regards to the deletion of petitioner’s name from the regular monthly payroll of teachers, we find the same to be merely the result of a school policy being implemented by the school personnel. Private respondent Wingsing had nothing to do with the preparation of the payroll, as it was the school payroll clerk who prepared the same. As explained by payroll clerk Aida Soliman, petitioner’s name was not deleted from the regular monthly payroll but merely transferred to the last page of the roll since she failed to submit her Form 48 or Daily Time Record (DTR) sheet on time. The move was made so that the other teachers would not be unduly prejudiced by the delayed release of petitioner’s salary, which as a policy was the consequence for late submission of DTRs.”

- 100.2.4. A joint notice shall be served to the concerned official, faculty member or academic staff or academic non-teaching staff or employee by the HRMD Office and Accounting for such act/s enumerated above. In Aparri v. Court of Appeals, the Court held that:

“A public office is the right, authority, and duty created and conferred by law, by which for a given period, either fixed by law or enduring at the pleasure of the creating power, an individual is invested with some portion of the sovereign functions of the government, to be exercised by him for the benefit of the public ([Mechem Public Offices and Officers,] Sec. 1).

In Laurel v. Desierto, the Court adopted the definition of Mechem of a public office:

“The individual so invested is a public officer.

Petitioner claims that she is not a public officer with Salary Grade 27; she is, in fact, a regular tuition fee-paying student. This is likewise bereft of merit. It is not only the salary grade that determines the jurisdiction of the Sandiganbayan. x x x.

Moreover, it is well established that compensation is not an essential element of public office. At most, it is merely incidental to the public office.”

²¹³ Javier v. Sandiganbayan, G.R. Nos. 147026-27, September 11, 2009, the Supreme Court enunciated as follows:

“A perusal of the above powers and functions leads us to conclude that they partake of the nature of public functions. A public office is the right, authority and duty, created and conferred by law, by which, for a given period, either fixed by law or enduring at the pleasure of the creating power, an individual is invested with some portion of the sovereign functions of the government, to be exercised by him for the benefit of the public.” (Italics supplied).

²¹⁴ In Alcuaz v. Philippine School of Business Administration (G.R. No.76353 September 29,1989), the Supreme Court held:

“In conclusion, We wish to reiterate that while We value the right of students to complete their education in the school or university of their choice, and while We fully respect their right to resort to rallies and demonstrations for the redress of their grievances and as a part of their freedom of speech and their right to assemble, still such rallies, demonstrations, and assemblies must always be conducted peacefully, and without resort to intimidation, coercion, or violence. Academic freedom in all its forms, demands the full display of discipline. To hold otherwise would be to subvert freedom into degenerate license.”

duty²¹⁵ of the University, faculty members and students to discharge their respective rights in accordance with existing laws, rules and regulations.

Academic integrity²¹⁶ imposes upon the entire academic community to strictly conform to the essential values of integrity, honesty, originality, decency, hard work, respect and great responsibility. Students must aim for continuing improvement and aggressively achieve the highest standards of academic excellence and norms acceptable by the society.

- 193.3. Prohibition Against Plagiarism. – To fully observe academic integrity in the University, faculty members and Academic officers and staff are prohibited from committing any form plagiarism as defined in relevant jurisprudence such as, but not limited to, "In the Matter of the Charges of Plagiarism, etc., Against Associate Justice Mariano C. Del Castillo"²¹⁷ which shall be punishable as provided herein.

"Indeed, "academic freedom has never been meant to be an unabridged license. It is a privilege that assumes a correlative duty to exercise it responsibly. An equally telling precept is a long recognized mandate, so well expressed in Article 19 of the Civil Code, that every 'person must, in the exercise of his rights and in the performance of his duties, act with justice, give everyone his due, and observe honesty and good faith.

While it is true that the students are entitled to the right to pursue their education, the USC as an educational institution is also entitled to pursue its academic freedom and in the process has the concomitant right to see to it that this freedom is not jeopardized.

It must be borne in mind that schools are established, not merely to develop the intellect and skills of the studentry, but to inculcate lofty values, ideals and attitudes; nay, the development, or flowering if you will, of the total man. Essentially, education must ultimately be religious, i.e., one which inculcates duty and reverence. Under the rubric of "right to education," students have a concomitant duty to learn under the rules laid down by the school. Every citizen has a right to select a profession or, course of study, subject to fair, reasonable, and equitable admission and academic requirements.¹³² The PMA is not different. As the primary training and educational institution of the AFP, it certainly has the right to invoke academic freedom in the enforcement of its internal rules and regulations, which are the Honor Code and the Honor System in particular."

²¹⁶ University of the Philippines Board of Regents v. Hon. Court of Appeals, G.R. No. 134625, August 31, 1999, the Supreme Court declared:

"The pursuit of academic excellence is the university's concern. It should be empowered, as an act of self-defense, to take measures to protect itself from serious threats to its integrity."

²¹⁷ In the Matter of the Charges of Plagiarism, etc., Against Associate Justice Mariano C. Del Castillo, A.M. No. 10-7-17-SC, February 8, 2011 citing Black's Law Dictionary (8th Edition, 2004), <http://www.admu.edu.ph/index.php?p=120&type=2&sec=25&aid=9149>, Webster's Third New International Dictionary, p. 2374, the Supreme Court sustained:

"Plagiarism, a term not defined by statute, has a popular or common definition. To plagiarize, says Webster, is to steal and pass off as one's own the ideas or words of another. Stealing implies malicious taking. Black's Law Dictionary, the world's leading English law dictionary quoted by the Court in its decision, defines plagiarism as the deliberate and knowing presentation of another person's original ideas or creative expressions as one's own. The presentation of another person's ideas as one's own must be deliberate or premeditated taking with ill intent.

There is no commonly-used dictionary in the world that embraces in the meaning of plagiarism errors in attribution by mere accident or in good faith.

Certain educational institutions of course assume different norms in its application. For instance, the Loyola Schools Code of Academic Integrity ordains that plagiarism is identified not through intent but through the act itself. The objective act of falsely attributing to one's self what is not one's work, whether intentional or out of neglect, is sufficient to conclude that plagiarism has occurred. Students who plead ignorance or appeal to lack of malice are not excused.

Original scholarship is highly valued in the academe and rightly so. A college thesis, for instance, should contain dissertations embodying results of original research, substantiating a specific view. This must be so since the writing is intended to earn for the student an academic degree, honor, or distinction. He earns no credit nor deserves it who takes the research of others, copies their dissertations, and proclaims these as his own. There should be no question that a cheat deserves neither reward nor sympathy."

- 196.9. It shall be the responsibility for every faculty member to seek corrective measure for what may appear to be unprofessional and unethical conduct of any associate. This may be done only if there is incontrovertible evidence for such conduct.
- 196.10. A faculty member may submit to proper authorities any justifiable criticisms against an associate preferably in writing, without violating any right of the individual concerned.
- 196.11. A faculty member may apply for a vacant position for which he/she is qualified, provided that he/she respects the system of selection on the basis of merit and competence, provided further, that all qualified candidates are given the opportunity to be considered.

- 197.6. A faculty member who accepts a position assumes a contractual obligation to live up to his/her contract, assuming full knowledge of the employment terms and conditions.
- 197.7. University officials shall at all times show professional courtesy, helpfulness and sympathy towards faculty members and other personnel, such practices being standards of effective institutional supervision, dignified administration, responsible leadership and enlighten direction.
- 197.8. University officials, faculty members and other personnel shall consider it their cooperative responsibility to formulate policies or introduce important changes in the system at all levels.
- 197.9. University officials shall encourage and attend to the professional growth of all faculty member under them such as recommending them for promotion, giving them due recognition for meritorious performance, and allowing them to participate in conference and training programs subject to availability of funds and usual accounting and auditing laws, rules and regulations.

Discipline and Disciplinary Cases

Section 203. General Policies. – In the exercise of its academic freedom and institutional autonomy, pertinent provisions of R.A. No. 8292 and R.A. No. 9311, and relevant laws and jurisprudence, the University hereby adopts the following policies for be strictly compliance of all concerned:

203.1. Adoption, Application and Liberal Interpretation of CSC Resolution No. 1701077 promulgated on July 3, 2017²¹⁸, Jurisprudence and Applicable Laws and Relevant and Subsequent Issuances Thereof. – The pertinent provisions of CSC Resolution No. 1701077 promulgated on July 3, 2017, jurisprudence and applicable laws and related and subsequent issuances thereof are hereby adopted as provided herein which shall be liberally construed, applied and interpreted to promote their objective in obtaining just, speedy, and inexpensive disposition of administrative cases²¹⁹.

- 203.2. Compliance of Administrative Exhaustion. – Faculty Members, academic officials and staff shall comply administrative exhaustion in seeking for resolution of their complaint/s or issues as elucidated in Republic of the Philippines v. Lacap²²⁰, the Supreme Court unequivocally held:

“The general rule is that before a party may seek the intervention of the court, he should first avail of all the means afforded him by administrative processes. The issues which administrative agencies are authorized to decide should not be summarily taken from them and submitted to a court without first giving such administrative agency the opportunity to dispose of the same after due deliberation.

Corollary to the doctrine of exhaustion of administrative remedies is the doctrine of primary jurisdiction; that is, courts cannot or will not determine a controversy involving a question which is within the jurisdiction of the administrative tribunal prior to the resolution of that question by the administrative tribunal, where the question demands the exercise of sound administrative discretion requiring the special knowledge, experience and services of the administrative tribunal to determine technical and intricate matters of fact.”

Further, in COA v. CA²²¹, the Supreme ruled:

“The failure to fulfill the requirements of Rule 65 disallows the CA from taking due course of the Petition; otherwise appeals and motions for reconsideration would be rendered meaningless, as stated time and again by this Court:

If resort to a remedy within the administrative machinery can still be made by giving the administrative officer concerned every opportunity to decide on a matter that comes within his or her jurisdiction, then such remedy should be exhausted first before the court's judicial power can be sought. The premature invocation of the intervention of the court is fatal to one's cause of action. The doctrine of exhaustion of administrative remedies is based on practical and legal reasons. The availment of administrative remedy entails lesser expenses and provides for a speedier disposition of controversies. Furthermore, the courts of justice, for reasons of comity and convenience, will shy away from a dispute until the system of administrative redress has been completed and complied with, so as to give the administrative agency concerned every opportunity to correct its error and dispose of the case. x x x.

Moreover, courts have accorded respect for the specialized ability of other agencies of government to deal with the issues within their respective specializations prior to any court intervention. The Court has reasoned thus:

We have consistently declared that the doctrine of exhaustion of administrative remedies is a cornerstone of our judicial system. The thrust of the rule is that courts must allow administrative agencies to carry out their functions and discharge their responsibilities within the specialized areas of their respective competence. The rationale for this doctrine is obvious. It entails lesser expenses and provides for the speedier resolution of controversies. Comity and convenience also impel courts of justice to shy away from a dispute until the system of administrative redress has been completed.

Once again, the Court must remind the parties to judicial disputes to adhere to the standards for litigation as set by procedural rules. These rules exist primarily for the benefit of litigants, in order to afford them both speedy and appropriate relief from a body duly authorized by law to dispense the remedy. If a litigant prematurely invokes the jurisdiction of a court, then the potential result might be a deafening silence. Although we recognize that justice delayed is justice denied, we must also bear in mind that justice in haste is justice defiled.”

- 203.3. Requirements of Administrative Due Process. – No faculty member or academic official or staff of the University shall be removed or suspended except for cause as provided under this Manual or 2017 Revised University Code, CSC Resolution No. 1701077 promulgated on July 3, 2017, and such applicable laws, jurisprudence and after due process of law. Executive Secretary*, 116 Phil. 344 (1962); and Ang Tibay v. Court of Industrial Relations, 69 Phil. 635, 642-644 (1940).

Court instructively declared:

“Time and again, we have ruled that the essence of due process is the opportunity to be heard. In administrative proceedings, one is heard when he is accorded a fair and reasonable opportunity to explain his case or is given the chance to have the ruling complained of reconsidered.

XXXXXXXXXX

We stress that administrative due process also requires the following: 1) A finding or decision by a competent tribunal that is supported by substantial evidence, either presented at the hearing or at least contained in the records of disclosed to the parties affected: 2) The tribunal must act on its own independent consideration of the law and facts of the controversy and not simply accept the view of a subordinate in arriving at a decision; and 3) The tribunal should in all controversial questions, render its decision in such a manner that the parties to the proceedings can know the various issues involved and the reason for the decision rendered.”

In Montoya v. Varilla²²³, the Supreme Court instructively held:

“Though procedural rules in administrative proceedings are less stringent and often applied more liberally, administrative proceedings are not exempt from basic and fundamental procedural principles, such as the right to due process in investigations and hearings. The right to substantive and procedural due process is applicable to administrative proceedings.

Well-settled is the rule that the essence of due process is simply an opportunity to be heard or, as applied to administrative proceedings, an opportunity to explain ones side or an opportunity to seek a reconsideration of the action or ruling complained of. Unarguably, this rule, as it is stated, strips down administrative due process to its most fundamental nature and sufficiently justifies freeing administrative proceedings from the rigidity of procedural requirements. In particular, however, due process in administrative proceedings has also been recognized to include the following: (1) the right to actual or constructive notice of the institution of proceedings which may affect a respondents legal rights; (2) a real opportunity to be heard personally or with the assistance of counsel, to present witnesses and evidence in ones favor, and to defend ones rights; (3) a tribunal vested with competent jurisdiction and so constituted as to afford a person charged administratively a reasonable guarantee of honesty as well as impartiality; and (4) a finding by said tribunal which is supported by substantial evidence submitted for consideration during the hearing or contained in the records or made known to the parties affected."

Relatedly, in Ray Peter O. Vivo v. PAGCRO²²⁴, the Supreme Court enunciated:

"The essence of due process is to be heard, and, as applied in to administrative proceedings, this means a fair a reasonable opportunity to explain one's side, or an opportunity to seek a reconsideration of the action or ruling complained of."

Further, in LTO v. Gutierrez²²⁵, the Supreme Court declared:

"The sense of procedural due process is embodied in the basic requirements of notice and a real opportunity to be heard. In administrative proceedings, xxxxxxxx, procedural due process simply means the opportunity to explain one's side or the opportunity to seek a reconsideration of the action or ruling complained of. To be heard does not mean only verbal arguments in court; one may also be heard thru pleadings. Where opportunity to be heard, either through oral arguments or pleadings, is accorded, there is no denial of procedural due process. This was extensively discuss in Vivo v. Philippine Amusement and Gaming Corporation, as follows:

"The observance of fairness in the conduct of any investigation is at the very heart of procedural due process. The essence of due process is to be heard, and, as applied to administrative proceedings, this means a fair and reasonable opportunity to explain one's side, or an opportunity to seek a reconsideration of the action or ruling complained of. Administrative due process cannot be fully equated with due process in its strict judicial sense, for in the former a formal trial-type hearing is not always necessary, and technical rules of procedure are not strictly applied. *Ledesma v. Phil. 731, 740 [2007]]) elaborates on the well-established meaning of due process in administrative proceedings in this wise:

x x x Due process, as a constitutional precept, does not always and in all situations require a trial-type proceeding. Due process is satisfied when a person is notified of the charge against him and given an opportunity to explain or defend himself. In administrative proceedings, the filing of charges and giving reasonable opportunity for the person so charged to answer the accusations against him constitute the minimum requirements of due process. The essence of due of process is simply to be heard, or as applied to administrative proceedings, an opportunity to explain one's side, or an opportunity to seek a reconsideration of the action or ruling complained of."

- 203.4. Responsibility on the Burden of Proof. – The complainant has the burden of proof of proving by substantial evidence the allegations in his complaint. The basic rule is that mere allegation is not evidence and is not equivalent to proof. Charges based on a mere suspicion and speculation likewise cannot be given credence. Hence, when the complainant relies on mere conjectures and suppositions, and fails to substantiate his allegations, the administrative complaint must be dismissed for lack of merit²²⁶.

In a "Letter of Rafael Dimaano Requesting Investigation of the Alleged Illegal Activities Purportedly Perpetrated by Associate Justice Jane Aurora C. administrative proceeding falls on the complainant, who must be able to prove the allegations in the complaint with substantial evidence. Reliance on mere allegations, conjectures and suppositions will leave an administrative complaint with no leg to stand on.”

- 203.5. Requirement of Substantial Evidence. – As pronounced by the Supreme Court in Ombudsman v. Torres²²⁸, the requirement of administrative culpability of any faculty member, academic official or staff of the University shall be as follows:

“To sustain a finding of administrative culpability only substantial evidence is required, not overwhelming or preponderant, and very much less than proof beyond reasonable doubt as required in criminal cases. Substantial evidence means such relevant evidence as a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion.”

In Civil Service Commission v. Herminigildo L. Andal, the Supreme Court held:

“Substantial evidence, which is the quantum of proof required in this administrative case, the amount of relevant evidence that a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to justify a conclusion. This standard is satisfied in the present case so long as there is reasonable ground to believe that respondent is responsible for the misconduct complained of, even if the evidence may not be overwhelming or even preponderant.”²²⁹

- 203.6. Resignation Not a Way Out to Evade Administrative Liability. – Resignation is not a way out to evade administrative liability when facing administrative sanction. The resignation of a public servant does not preclude the finding of any administrative liability to which he or she shall still be answerable.²³⁰

However, a faculty member, academic official or staff under investigation may be allowed to resign pending decision of his case without prejudice to the continuation of the proceedings until finally terminated.²³¹ filing of an affidavit of desistance by complainant for lack of interest does not ipso facto result in the termination of an administrative case against the respondent²³². In Pastor C. Pinlac v. Oscar T, Llamas²³³, the Supreme Court ruled:

“We reiterate the settled rule that administrative actions cannot depend on the will or pleasure of the complainant who may, for reasons of his own, accept and condone what it otherwise detestable.”

However, well-established is the rule in administrative proceedings that the burden of proof rests on the complainant, who must be able to support and prove by substantial evidence his accusations against respondent²³⁴.

203.8. Hearsay. – Evidence is hearsay when its probative force depends in whole or in part on the competency and credibility of some persons other than the witness by whom it is sought to produce. However, while the testimony of a witness regarding a statement made by another person given for the purpose of establishing the truth of the fact asserted in a statement is clearly hearsay evidence, it is otherwise if the purpose of placing the statement on record is merely to establish the fact that the statement, or the tenor of such statement, was made. Regardless of the truth or falsity of a statement, when what is relevant is the fact that such statement has been made, the hearsay rule does not apply and the statement may be shown. As a matter of fact, evidence as to making of the statement is not secondary but primary, for the statement itself may constitute a fact in issue or is circumstantially relevant as to the existence of such a fact. This is known as the doctrine of independently relevant statements.²³⁵

203.9. Limitations on the Application of Technical Rules Obtaining to Cases in Ordinary Court of Law, and Formal and Trial-Type Hearing is Not Necessary. – The administrative cases and proceedings against any faculty member, academic official or staff of the University shall not be bound by the strict technical rules obtaining cases in ordinary court of law²³⁶. in courts of law. Administrative tribunals exercising quasi-judicial powers are unfettered by the rigidity of certain procedural requirements, subject to the observance of fundamental and essential requirements of due process in justiciable cases presented before them. In administrative proceedings, technical rules of procedure and evidence are not strictly applied and administrative due process cannot be fully equated with due process in its strict judicial sense.”

In Lastimoso v. Asayo²³⁸, the Supreme Court held:

“It is a settled jurisprudence that in administrative proceedings, technical rules of procedure and evidence are not strictly applied. In Land Bank of the Philippines v. Celada, the Court stressed thus:

After all, technical rules of procedure are not ends in themselves but are primarily devised to help in the proper and expedient dispensation of justice. In appropriate cases, therefore, the rules may be construed liberally in order to meet and advance the cause of substantial justice.”

Further, in Imperial v. GSIS²³⁹, the Supreme Court declared:

“Procedural due process is the constitutional standard demanding that notice and an opportunity to be heard be given before judgment is rendered. As long as a party is given the opportunity to defend his interests in due course, he would have no reason to complain; the essence of due process is in the opportunity to be heard. A formal or trial-type hearing is not always necessary.”

203.10. Penalty, Punishment and Fines Distinguished. – In SPARK v. Quezon City²⁴⁰, the Supreme Court ruled:

“Penalty” is defined imposed on a wrongdoer usually in the form of imprisonment or fine”; “[p]unishment imposed by lawful authority upon a person who commits a deliberate or negligent act.” Punishment, in turn, is defined as “[s]anction—such as fine, penalty, confinement, or loss of property, right, or privilege – assessed against a person who has violated the law.

Provided, that the CSC shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the EVSU Board of Regents over the disciplinary action/s against any faculty member or academic official or staff of the University²⁴².

Section 205. Penalties; Classification of Offenses²⁴³. – Administrative offenses with corresponding penalties are classified into grave, less grave or light, depending on their gravity or depravity and effects on the government service as provided hereunder:

205.1. Grave Offense. – The following grave offenses shall be punishable by

“CSC has concurrent original jurisdiction with the Board of Regents over administrative cases

It is the Court’s position that the Uniform Rules did not supplant the law which provided the CSC with original jurisdiction. While the Uniform Rules may have so provided, the Court invites attention to the cases of Civil Service Commission v. Alfonso and Civil Service Commission v. Sojor, to be further discussed in the course of this decision, both of which buttressed the pronouncement that the Board of Regents shares its authority to discipline erring school officials and employees with the CSC. It can be presumed that, at the time of their promulgation, the members of this Court, in Alfonso and Sojor, were fully aware of all the existing laws and applicable rules and regulations pertaining to the jurisdiction of the CSC, including the Uniform Rules.

Xxxxx

We are not unmindful of certain special laws that allow the creation of disciplinary committees and governing bodies in different branches, subdivisions, agencies and instrumentalities of the government to hear and decide administrative complaints against their respective officers and employees. Be that as it may, we cannot interpret the creation of such bodies nor the passage of laws such as – R.A. Nos. 8292 and 4670 allowing for the creation of such disciplinary bodies – as having divested the CSC of its inherent power to supervise and discipline government employees, including those in the academe. To hold otherwise would not only negate the very purpose for which the CSC was established, i.e. to instill professionalism, integrity, and accountability in our civil service, but would also impliedly amend the Constitution itself.

Based on all of the foregoing, the inescapable conclusion is that the CSC may take cognizance of an administrative case filed directly with it against an official or employee of a chartered state college or university. This is regardless of whether the complainant is a private citizen or a member of the civil service and such original jurisdiction is shared with the Board of Regents of the school.”

Section 206. Elements, Definitions or Determination of Offenses. – Notwithstanding as may be provided under applicable laws, rules and regulations as well as jurisprudence, the elements or definitions of administrative offenses shall be as follows:

206.1. Absence Without Leave (AWOL) – means that the employee is leaving or abandoning his post without justifiable reason and without notifying his employer.²⁴⁵ As provided under CSC Resolution No. 070631 promulgated on April 10, 2007 and circularized per MC No. 13, s. 2007 dated July 25, 2007²⁴⁶, clearly declared and sustained: “In order to curb such practice, to promote efficiency and effective personnel administration in government and to obviate any prejudice to the service, the Civil Service Commission, pursuant to CSC Resolution No. 07-0631 dated April 10, 2007, hereby amends the abovementioned rule to read as follows:

“Sec. 63. Effect of Absences without approved leave.
– An official or employee who is continuously absent without approved leave for at least thirty (30) working days shall be considered on absence without official leave (AWOL) and shall be separated from the service or dropped from the rolls without prior notice. However, when it is clear under the obtaining circumstances that the official or employee concerned, has established a scheme to circumvent the rule by incurring substantial absences though less than thirty working (30) days 3x in a semester, such that a pattern is already apparent, dropping from the rolls without notice may likewise be justified.”

In Palecpec v. Davis,²⁴⁷ the Supreme Court clearly ruled:

“Absence without leave for a prolonged period of time constitutes conduct prejudicial to the best interest of public service and justifies the dismissal of an employee and the forfeiture of benefits with prejudice to re-employment in the government since it is an established fact that frequent unauthorized absences cause inefficiency in the public services.”

206.2. Being Notoriously Undesirable – in determining whether an employee is notoriously undesirable, the CSC prescribes a two-fold test: (1)

whether it is common knowledge or generally known as universally believed to be true or manifest to the world that the employee committed the acts imputed against him; and (2) whether he had contracted the habit for any of the enumerated misdemeanors. An employee who cannot get along with his co-employees and superiors can upset and strain the working environment and is therefore detrimental to institution.²⁴⁸

- 206.3. Conduct Prejudicial to the Best Interest of the Service – refers to acts or omissions that violate the norm of public accountability and diminish or tend to diminish the people's faith xxxxxxxxx.²⁴⁹
- 206.4. Conduct Unbecoming of Public Official or Employee – means that conduct of public official or employee has a great tendency to destroy public respect.²⁵⁰
- 206.5. Crime Involving Moral Turpitude – refers to everything which is done contrary to justice, modesty, or good morals; an act of baseness, vileness or depravity in the private and social duties which a man owes his fellowmen, or to society in general, contrary to the accepted and customary rule of right and duty between man and woman, or conduct contrary to justice, honesty, modesty, or good morals. Not every criminal act, however, involves moral turpitude.²⁵¹
- 206.6. Discourtesy in the Course of Official Duties – refers to rude and hostile behavior exhibited by an official or employee affecting public service. It also includes acts of, among others, fighting between officials or employees during office hours reflecting adversely on the good image of the University, shouting at one another in the workplace and during office hours, and high-strung and belligerent behavior.²⁵²
- 206.7. Disgraceful and Immoral Conduct – is an act which violates the basic norm of decency, morality and decorum abhorred and condemned by the society and conduct which is willful, flagrant or shameless, and which shows a moral indifference to the opinions of the good and respectable members of the community.²⁵³

206.8. Dishonesty – refers to the concealment or distortion of truth in a matter of fact relevant to one’s office or connected with the performance of his duty²⁵⁴. It also “refers to disposition to lie, cheat, deceive or defraud. It implies untrustworthiness, lack of integrity, lack of honesty, probity or integrity in principle on the part of the individual who failed to exercise fairness and straightforwardness in his or her dealings”.²⁵⁵

Dishonesty is defined as “intentionally making a false statement in any material fact, or practicing or attempting to practice any deception or fraud in securing his examination, registration, appointment or promotion.” Thus, dishonesty, like bad faith, is not simply bad judgment or negligence. Dishonesty is a question of intention. In ascertaining the intention of a person accused of dishonesty, consideration must be taken not only of the facts and circumstances which gave rise to the act committed by the respondent, but also of his state of mind at the time the offense was committed, the time he might have had at his disposal for the purpose of meditating on the consequences of his act, and the degree of reasoning he could have had at that moment.²⁵⁶

The Supreme Court also defined dishonesty as the (d)isposition to lie, cheat, deceive, or defraud; untrustworthiness; lack of integrity; lack of honesty, probity or integrity in principle; lack of fairness and straightforwardness; disposition to defraud, deceive or betray.²⁵⁷ Under CSC Resolution No. 06-0538²⁵⁸ and as enunciated in Committee on Security and Safety v. Reynaldo V. Dianco, et al.²⁵⁹:

206.8.1. Serious Dishonesty – the presence of any of the following attendant circumstances in the commission of the dishonest act constitutes the offense of serious dishonesty:

- a. The dishonest act caused serious damage and grave prejudice to the government;
- b. The respondent gravely abused his authority in order to

206.8.2. Simple Dishonesty – the presence of any of the following attendant circumstances in the commission of the dishonest act constitutes the offense of simple dishonesty:

- a. The dishonest act did not cause damage or prejudice to the government.
- b. The dishonest act had no direct relation to or does not involve the duties and responsibilities of the respondent.
- c. In falsification of any official document, where the information falsified is not related to his/her employment.
- d. That the dishonest act did not result in any gain or benefit to the offender.
- e. Other analogous circumstances.

206.9. Falsification of Official Document – is the violation of public faith and the destruction of truth therein solemnly proclaimed. It is contrary to justice, honesty and good morals and, therefore, involves moral turpitude²⁶⁰. with public business. The term is also described as a document in the execution of which a person in authority or notary public takes part.²⁶¹

The distinction made by the law between falsification by private persons, first, of public documents, and secondly of private documents, is clear; the first is committed by the mere performance of any of the acts of falsification enumerated in Art. 171; while the second is committed not only by the performance of any of the acts of falsification enumerated in Art. 171; but it must likewise be shown that such act of falsification was committed to the damage of a third party or with intent to cause such damage. The reason for the distinction is given in a decision of the Supreme Court of Spain dated December 23, 1885, cited by this Court in the case of People vs. Pacana, 47 Phil. 48; i.e., that in the falsification of public or official documents, whether by public officials or by private persons, it is unnecessary that there be present the idea of gain or the intent to injure a third person, for the reason that, in contradiction to private documents, the principal thing punished is the violation of the public faith and the destruction of the truth as therein solemnly proclaimed.²⁶²

206.10. Grave Misconduct – is a transgression of some established or definite rule of action, is a forbidden act, is a dereliction of duty, is willful in character, and implies wrongful intent and not mere error in judgment. More particularly, it is an unlawful behavior by the public officer x x x.²⁶³ It as an intentional wrongdoing or deliberate violation of a rule of law or standard of behavior, especially by a government official. As differentiated from simple misconduct, in grave misconduct the elements of corruption, clear intent to violate the law or flagrant disregard of established rule, must be manifest.²⁶⁴

Misconduct shall be considered grave only in cases where the elements of “corruption, willful intent to violate the law or to disregard established rules [are proven] by substantial evidence.” The misconduct must imply wrongful intention and not a mere error of judgment. Corruption as an element of grave misconduct consists in the act of an official or employee who unlawfully or wrongfully uses her station or character to procure some benefit for herself or for another, at the expense of the rights of others. Nonetheless, “a person charged with grave misconduct may be held liable for simple chief of the bureau or office; and (4) person exercising immediate supervision over the appointee.²⁷⁷

206.19. Oppression – as an act of cruelty, severity, unlawful exaction, domination or excessive use of authority.²⁷⁸ It is also known as grave abuse of authority, which is a misdemeanor committed by a public officer, who under color of his office, wrongfully inflict upon any person any bodily harm, imprisonment or other injury. It is an act of cruelty, severity, or excessive use of authority. To be held administratively liable for oppression or grave abuse of authority, there must be substantial evidence presented proving the complainant's allegations. Substantial evidence is that amount of relevant evidence which a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion.²⁷⁹

206.20. Plagiarism – a term not defined by statute, has a popular or common definition. To plagiarize, says Webster, is to steal and pass off as one's own the ideas or words of another. Stealing implies malicious taking. Black's Law Dictionary, the world's leading English law dictionary quoted by the Court in its decision, defines plagiarism as the deliberate and knowing presentation of another person's original ideas or creative expressions as one's own. The presentation of another person's ideas as one's own must be deliberate or premeditated taking with ill intent. There is no commonly-used dictionary in the world that embraces in the meaning of plagiarism errors in attribution by mere accident or in good faith. The objective act of falsely attributing to one's self what is not one's work, whether intentional or out of neglect, is sufficient to conclude that plagiarism has occurred. Students who plead ignorance or appeal to lack of malice are not excused.²⁸⁰

206.21. Simple Misconduct – refers to a transgression of some established and definite rule of action, more particularly, unlawful behavior or gross negligence by the public officer. If any of the elements to qualify the misconduct as grave is not manifest and is not proven by substantial evidence, a person charged with grave misconduct may be

Sec. 11. Conditions for Old-Age Pension. — (a) Old-Age Pension shall be paid to a member who:

249.2.4. Any request for the extension of service of a compulsory retiree who meets the minimum number of years of service for retirement purposes may be granted for six (6) months only with no further extension.

249.3. In Rabor v. CSC³⁴⁶, the Supreme Court ruled:

“Our conclusion is that the doctrine of Cena should be and is hereby modified to this extent: that Civil Service Memorandum Circular No. 27, Series of 1990, more specifically paragraph (1) thereof, is hereby declared valid and effective. Section 11 (b) of P.D. No. 1146 must, accordingly, be read together with Memorandum Circular No. 27. We reiterate, however, the holding in Cena that the head of the government agency concerned is vested with discretionary authority to allow or disallow extension of the service of an official or employee who has reached sixty-five (65) years of age without completing fifteen (15) years of government service; this discretion is, nevertheless, to be exercised conformably with the provisions of Civil Service Memorandum Circular No. 27, Series of 1990.”

Auditor General³⁴⁷ in which the Supreme Court ruled:

“At the time Prof. Jamias reached 65 years, he was assigned a specific job, namely, to write the history of the University of the Philippines. Retirement age caught him half through with this undertaking. There is the desirability of having Prof. Jamias complete this assignment which he started. Besides, Prof. Jamias was then the head of the University Publications. Retirement would create a vacuum. U.P. had yet to find a qualified fill up. Then, also, Dr. Dionisia Rola, who was to relieve Prof. Jamias of his teaching courses, was still assigned to Baguio. The discipline of English had yet to adjust itself to the teaching of the courses he handled. Again, Prof. Jamias had to stay. The interests of the students so demanded.

It is in this factual configuration that the university authorities took it upon themselves to engage the services of Prof. Jamias until the termination of the school year, which was April 15, 1962. The unique and peculiar circumstances under which Prof. Jamias' services were sought, engaged and harnessed anew, sufficiently justified a special contract of services up to April 15, 1962. This the Board of Adopted/Approved this 21st day of March 2018 pursuant to Board Resolution No. 28, s. 2018 approved during the 74th Regular Board Meeting (First Quarter, CY 2018) of the EVSU Board of Regents held at the at the Commission on Higher Education, Conference Room, 4th Floor, Higher Education Development Center Building, C.P. Garcia Ave., UP Campus, Diliman, Quezon City.

³⁵⁴ Antonio A. Mecano v. Commission on Audit, G.R. No. G.R. No. 103982 December 11, 1992 citing Posadas vs. National City Bank, 296 U.S. 497, 80 L. Ed. 351 (1935); Maceda vs. Macaraig, 197 SCRA 771 (1991); and Villegas vs. Subido, 41 SCRA 190 (1971) , the Supreme Court clearly rules:

“Repeal by implication proceeds on the premise that where a statute of later date clearly reveals an intention on the part of the legislature to abrogate a prior act on the subject, that intention must be given effect. Hence, before there can be a repeal, there must be a clear showing on the part of the lawmaker that the intent in enacting the new law was to abrogate the old one. The intention to repeal must be clear and manifest; otherwise, at least, as a general rule, the later act is to be construed as a continuation of, and not a substitute for, the first act and will continue so far as the two acts are the same from the time of the first enactment.

There are two categories of repeal by implication. The first is where provisions in the two acts on the same subject matter are in an irreconcilable conflict, the later act to the extent of the conflict constitutes an implied repeal of the earlier one. The second is if the later act covers the whole subject of the earlier one and is clearly intended as a substitute, it will operate to repeal the earlier law.

Implied repeal by irreconcilable inconsistency takes place when the two statutes cover the same subject matter; they are so clearly inconsistent and incompatible with each other that they cannot be reconciled or harmonized; and both cannot be given effect, that is, that one law cannot be enforced without nullifying the other.”
